

Page Valley Arts Council
Minutes
26 September 2012

In attendance: Nancy Brady, Cindi Banach, Mary delaFontaine, Joann Fargo, Cathie Miranda, Susan Rocke

Old Business:

PVAC Website

Library Display-begins December 1st, Guatemalan Huipiles

Elik's "Poetry in Windows" is on hold

Sip & Paint: 10 October

"Be a Part of Art" has begun

"Healing Art" fundraiser continues

"Art A-Live" 20 October: two poets, five artists, eight musicians. Mary-spin art, Cathie-clay. It's an "art immersion day" per Jim Mayes with donations going to the PVAC.

Our first "Treasury Report" was read. PVAC has funds of approximately $248.

New Business:

Pumpkin Painting Contest: LDI will furnish pumpkins for painting on October 13th and 20th in Expressions Studio for Saturday activities. The pumpkins will be put on display for judging during the Downtown Trick or Treat on October 27th. There will be age appropriate prizes.

Mary & Jim are doing an outdoor art project with wood squares. Future projects could include toilet paper rolls (please save and bring in). We'd like to see these 'community art projects' in businesses around town, in some of the empty store front windows, and possibly even in the new County Building to be built. Sharron Burgess has that in her notes to discuss with Mark Belton, et al.

We have a 'Grove Hill' committee of Stephen Adler, Nancy Brady, Sharron Burgess and Liz Lewis.

There is a discussion of merging the Valley Artists Guild with the Page Valley Arts Council.

Another new idea is "Art You Can Sit On", sculptural pieces used as park benches around town.

The last two meetings of 2012 will be 24 October and 28 November and will be at the Visitors Center, 18 Campbell Street. There will not be a meeting in December.
